

Celebrating 10 years of IOP ebooks

299

Repeat contributors

Many of our authors, editors and contributors choose to return to us, reflecting their satisfaction with the process

792

Published books

We have worked tirelessly with our authors to publish this many books by the end of 2022

1,500

Institutional customers

We are thankful to all customers who have purchased IOP ebooks since launch. Your investment helps us to develop our book programme and offer readers an even better experience

3m

Book requests

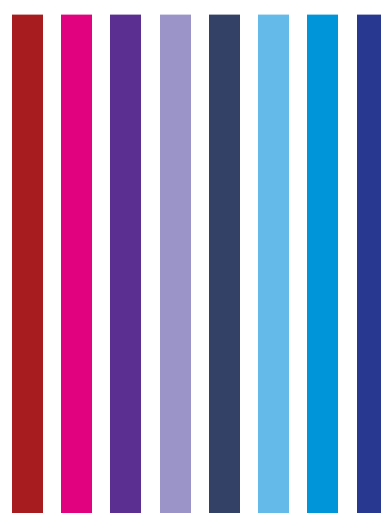

Achieving such a high number of unique item requests, including full books and chapters, shows the impact and relevance of IOP ebooks to our community

77

Author countries

We are proud of our global approach to book publishing, representing the diverse nature of our community. We look forward to working with more researchers from around the world in the future

130

Books with bonus content

To enhance the learning experience, our titles include supplementary content as a standard benefit, including videos, interactive elements, exercises and downloadable codes

57

Customer countries

Libraries from across the globe have purchased IOP ebooks, with several taking advantage of our recently launched Evidence Based Acquisition model

3,434

Unique item requests per book

The average number of downloads per title shows the breadth of readership across our collections and subject areas

105

Media mentions on Altmetric

Our books are hitting the headlines! Research in IOP ebooks has been discussed in 58 different news sources around the world